Mix & Match

This extraordinary modular system allows you to chose the component parts and design and assemble your own mannequins according to your requirements.

The System Mannequin Series can be configured to meet all your display needs. Optional display bases, available in large or small size, allow related items to be displayed together as a coherent group.

Merchandise entire lines in one organized display, including accessories, separates, and coordinates. When it's time to display a new line, simply reconfigure the components you need for an entirely new display in minutes.
